Message from the Principal

Hello Maple View Families,

The historic 2020-2021 start to the school year is almost here! At MVMS, our mission this year will be centered around an Arms Locked/Hearts Full mentality. More than ever, the strength of our partnerships will determine the level of success we have together. This includes staff partnering with staff, staff partnering with students and staff partnering with families—the Arms Locked approach. The Hearts Full piece describes the nature of how we will go about this. Along with high expectations for our students and staff in remote learning, we are committed to creating classroom cultures that foster care, build confidence and model empathy through strong relationships-Hearts Full.

Our first week’s schedule of school at MVMS will be different than the rest (see unique first week schedule). At MVMS, we will be engaged in a “HEART start”, with home-room class starting each day during the first week of school. Students will start each of these first four days with the same teacher and same group of students. We are committed to using this time the first week of school to build confidence and relationships during remote learning by having students engage in activities with relevant remote learning tools while at the same time working intentionally to build connections between students and staff. Our staff have been working hard to add to their repertoire new instructional strategies to create a high quality learning experience for students. Once schedules are released on Wednesday, August 26th, our staff will be reaching out to students to give them early access to Google Classroom and Zoom links before the first day of school for practice.
